Save the Date for Ballard SeafoodFest 2023: A Celebration of Seafood, Music, and Community

Seattle, WA - The annual Ballard SeafoodFest, one of Seattle's most anticipated events, returns to the historic Ballard neighborhood on July 14-16, 2023. This year's festival promises to be the biggest and most exciting yet, with a stellar lineup of live music, dozens of vendors, and of course, the freshest and most delicious seafood you can get your hands on.

Now in its 47th year, Ballard SeafoodFest has become a beloved tradition for locals and visitors alike. The festival offers something for everyone, from foodies eager to sample the latest seafood dishes to families looking for a fun-filled day out.

"We are thrilled to welcome another Seattle summer that includes Ballard SeafoodFest," said Executive Director Mike Stewart. "This year's festival promises to be a spectacular celebration of our community's rich maritime heritage, with plenty of food, music, and entertainment for all."

The festival will feature two stages of live music, showcasing a diverse lineup of local and national talent. In addition to the music, there will be dozens of vendors selling arts, crafts, food, and other goods, as well as a beer and wine garden.

Of course, the star of the show will be the seafood. Festival-goers can look forward to a mouth-watering array of dishes, from classic fish and chips to creative seafood creations from some of the city's top chefs. Not to mention the infamous Trident Seafoods smoked salmon BBQ.
